

International Workshop on

“Malaria: Past, Present, and Future”

Date: 2023.11.4 (Sat) 13:00-18:00

Venue: JR HAKATA CITY 9F Middle Conference Room 3
(JR博多シティ会議室9F中会議室3)

Program

13:00 Opening Remarks, Explanation of Aim
Tomoya Matsumoto (Otaru University of Commerce)

Session1 History

‘Invisible Crises, Neglected Histories: The Past and Present of Malaria in Asia’

13:10 Malaria, Ecology and Tradition in Colonial Bengal: Conservative and Nationalist Critiques of Modernity

Mark Harrison (University of Oxford)

13:40 The Perpetual Malaria Cycle and War: Mobile Populations, Ecology, and the Political Dilemma in Myanmar

Atsuko Naono (University of Oxford)

14:10 The US Military’s Malaria Control in South Korea: Comparison with Hikone Case

Kim Jeong-ran (University of Oxford)

Session2 Modern Efforts

15:00 Interdisciplinary Research for an Integrated Community-Directed Strategy for Sustainable Freedom from Malaria

Akira Kaneko (Osaka Metropolitan University)

15:30 Economic Intervention for Behavioral Change for Malaria Elimination

Tomoya Matsumoto (Otaru University of Commerce)

16:00 Evaluation of the Protective Efficacy of Olyset® Plus Ceiling Net on Reducing Malaria Prevalence in Children in Lake Victoria Basin, Kenya

Wataru Kagaya (Nagasaki University)

16:40 Comment

Wataru Iijima (Aoyama Gakuin University)

17:00 General Discussion

17:50 Closing Remarks

Kunio Araya (Kyushu University)